Lays Blame for the Break Upon French Aggression In Statement

EMBASSIES TURNED OVER TO U. S.

American Ambassadors at Paris and Berlin Are Given Archives To Guard

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—Placing responsibility for the break recently at France's door, Germany today formally declared war on her neighbor republic. The foreign office in a statement that accompanied the formal declaration, recited specific violations of the German frontier by the French and insisted that Germany has always striven for peace but that she has been hampered at every move by "French aggression."

PARIS, Aug. 4.—France and Germany are officially at war. The formal announcement was made in Berlin, where the foreign office handed the French ambassador his passports. Fighting is in progress near the Luxembourg frontier. French aviators are reported as having attacked German air men near Longwy, where a battle is in progress. The city is aflame with the war spirit and the police are hard pressed to control the anti-foreign demonstrations.

News that Germany had actually declared war on France was responsible for one of the gravest patriotic demonstrations in the history of the capital.

Big Demonstration

Thousands of frantic men and women paraded the streets in military formation waving the national colors and singing patriotic songs. A number of Germans and Austrians were attacked but the police acted promptly.

Baron von Schoen, the German ambassador, left before midnight. He was escorted by his special train by a column of cavalry and Paris police. Because of the interruption of communication and the impossibility of the Russian reservists now in France responding to the call to the colors, the Russian ambassador here will assign all reservists reporting to a place in the French service.

Embassy to U. S.

Baron von Schoen, the German ambassador, before departing for Berlin, turned the archives of his embassy over to Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador.

The French ambassador to Berlin, who received his passports last night, is now enroute to the frontier. His archives are in charge of the United States.

BRITISH TAKE A GERMAN VESSEL

LONDON, Aug. 4.—According to "The Press association" an English news agency, the German steamer Prinz Adalbert has been ordered into Falmouth harbor by a British warship. It was earlier reported that the Kronprinzessin Cecilie was there, but this is believed to have been due to the confusion of her identity with the Prinz Adalbert.

HAS HOARD IN BARREL WHICH IS BURNED AT LOCAL PACKING PLANT

One hundred and fifty dollars in gold and paper, the hoard of William Fima, an employee of the Farmers' Co-operative Packing plant, was chucked into the furnace at the plant Friday morning. Fima had hidden the money in an ash barrel, which had been his money repository for some time. Along came Dr. Harry Dell, U. S. meat inspector, and ordered the barrel removed from the premises. A look into the furnace failed to disclose any trace of the cash. Fima has been known to save until he had several hundred dollars, but none knew the place. He once paid a police fine from a roll of bills amounting to about $500, which, the police say, he had hidden under the sidewalk near Gund's brewery.

Czar, Kaiser, English King, All Are Grandchildren of Queen Victoria

Three first cousins, rulers of three big European powers, may find themselves arrayed in war against a fourth first cousin as a result of the international embroilment the Austria-Serb war has brought about.

Czar Nicholas II of Russia, King George V of England and King Constantine of Greece, all bound by family ties to English royalty, are expected to take the side of Serbia in the struggle.

Emperor William II of Germany, the "war lord," a direct descendant of the late Queen Victoria of England, will line up with Austria in what is expected to be one of the bitterest and bloodiest conflicts of history.

The czar, the kaiser and the king of England all are offspring of the children of Queen Victoria.

Constantine of Greece, whose alliance with Serbia in the recent Balkan war is expected to be repeated, is a brother-in-law of the kaiser, whom he will oppose, as well as being a first cousin by marriage to the czar, the kaiser and King George.

Czar Nicholas, aged forty-six, Russian ruler since November 1, 1894, is the son of the late czar, Alexander III, and Dagmar, dowager empress of Russia. Dagmar was a sister of Alexandra, queen of Great Britain and Ireland, mother of King George V.

Nicholas II, in addition to being a cousin of the British king, is married to Princess Alix, a granddaughter of Victoria through Victoria's third daughter, Alice, grand duchess of Hesse.

King George of England is a son of the late King Edward VII, who was Victoria's first son. George has been on the throne since May 6, 1901. He is forty-nine years old and closely resembles his cousin, the czar.

Constantine of Greece is married to Princess Sophia, sister of the kaiser, and hence the kaiser's brother-in-law. He also is a first cousin of the czar and King George. Constantine is forty-six years old and has been on the throne since March 19, 1913.

Emperor William of Germany is the son of former Emperor Frederick and the royal Princess Victoria, first child of Queen Victoria, hence a first cousin of the czar and English king.

The present kaiser succeeded to the throne of the German empire in 1888. He is the second William to have held the throne of United Germany. The first emperor of Germany was King William of Prussia, who became kaiser in 1871, after the Franco-Prussian war had demonstrated Germany's military superiority over France.

KAISER DECLARES GERMANY'S READY TO FIGHT WHOLE WORLD FOR HONOR

BY KARL H. VON WIEGAND.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—Germany is prepared to fight the entire world in defense of her honor. Kaiser Wilhelm in effect so told the reichstag today. He made no effort to conceal the gravity of the situation. But he placed the blame for the break squarely upon France and Russia. It was plain that he no longer hopes that England will remain neutral.

In anticipation of England's hostility, Germany is already striking hard. Her forces are penetrating France. The Cossack invasion of the Prussian border has been repelled. Belgium is to be subdued. Her refusal to permit Germany free passage to the French frontier and her admitted pro-French sympathies left the kaiser no alternative but to include her in his war plans.

The formal declaration of war came today. The foreign office summoned the French ambassador and served him with Germany's defy. It was a great state document. It recites Germany's efforts to keep peace. It insists that France at all times has been the aggressor.

So soon as the formal declaration had been communicated, the passports of the French ambassador, previously prepared, were handed over. He was escorted to the station with all the honors due his rank. A guard of honor accompanied the ambassador to the frontier. Before leaving, the belongings of the embassy were turned over to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador.

Decisive fighting near the French border is only a question of several hours. Already general skirmishing has taken place. The French attempt to invade Lorraine up to the present has proved abortive. The reports to the general staff indicate that the offensive move failed of its objective and the French troops have already retired back into their own territory.

The French fortress at Longwy is besieged. A good part of the department of Meurthe et Moselle is already held by German soldiers and it is expected here that the advance will be directed against Nancy where it is believed the French army has established its chief forward base.

NAVAL BATTLE IS IN PROGRESS OFF COAST OF FRANCE

French and German Ships Believed to Have Come Together at Dawn

LONDON, Aug. 4.—A naval battle is believed in progress off the French coast. Life saving and coast guard stations along the Yorkshire coast say that heavy firing was heard there at daybreak.

It is known that a French squadron sailed from Brest within the last few days under sealed orders. The fleet was reported as having passed out of Brest harbor at almost the same time that the German fleet was said to have passed through the Kiel canal enroute for the North sea.

It has been expected that the Germans would attempt to raid the French coast before the British could act, and it is believed by the naval officials here that at least a part of the hostile German and French fleets have clashed.

The government is making earnest effort to confirm the report of the battle. Scarborough and Flamborough Head, both of which points reported having heard the firing, have been appealed to try and locate its source. It is admitted that if the French and Germans have been engaged at a point close enough to the English coast so that the firing could be made out distinctly from the shore Admiral Tiptop, the German commander, must have out-manuevered Admiral Callaghan, whose instructions were to keep watch of the Germans and see that they did not approach the British coast.

Coast towns are frantically appealing to the government to save them from the war menace of a German raiding fleet. The admiralty does not believe that there is any cause for alarm, but it is likely that vessels of the home squadron may be sent out to get in communication with Callaghan and tell him of the reported fight.

SIMPLE SERVICES FOR MISS ELLERS

Funeral services for Miss Myrtle Ellers took place at 2:30 this afternoon at the Fessler undertaking parlors. The members of the family who are in La Crosse and a few intimate friends attended.

The remains of Miss Ellers were found Sunday night in Coon Slough by a party of fishermen and identified yesterday afternoon by W. R. Ellers, father of the girl. Miss Ellers drowned in the Mississippi on the fourth of July, 1913.

Little more than a short prayer was said prior to the burial at Oak Grove cemetery where Rev. B. C. Brandenburg officiated. Funeral services had been held for Miss Ellers when hope of finding her body were given up.

WILSON ISSUES PROCLAMATION OF U. S. NEUTRALITY

Document Enumerates at Length What Cannot be Done by Citizens

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—President Wilson signed the United States proclamation of neutrality in the European war at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. The proclamation, of seven type written sheets, was taken to the cabinet room where the president affixed his signature, followed immediately by Secretary Bryan's signature.

The proclamation declares neutrality with respect to Austria, Serbia, Germany, Russia and France, where it states a "state of war unhappily exists."

Reciting the existence of war, the friendship of the United States for the belligerent nations and the duty of neutrality, the proclamation enumerates at length the acts prohibited of a neutral nation and its citizens. The prohibitions include:

Use of neutral nations' waters for war purposes, enlistment or procurement of enlistment of citizens in hostile armies and navies within or without the neutral country, fitting out or commissioning ships or forces or in any way enhancing the forces of belligerents, or transportation of officers or soldiers or contraband of war in the interest of a belligerent. The manufacture and sale of arms and munitions, along regular industrial and commercial lines, is not prohibited.

FIRST SKIRMISHES OF BIG BATTLE BEGIN ON FRENCH LINE TODAY

PARIS, Aug. 4.—The German army of invasion, which crossed the frontier from Metz at Mars et Tour, scene of the battle of Vionville during the Franco-Prussian war, was engaged by French troops today. Fighting is reported in progress between skirmishing parties and a general engagement is looked for.

The German forces are said to include cavalry, infantry and artillery and the officials of the war office say that they believe this is the advance guard of the main German army that will try to take Paris. A strong French army is in the direct path that the Germans must take and it is believed that an important battle cannot be avoided. The town is 14 miles southwest of Metz.

Kronprinzessin Cecilie Slides Into Bar Harbor After Dash Back Across Atlantic

FOG SAVED HER $10,000,000

Overheard Wireless Messages of French Cruisers Looking For Her

PUT OUT ALL LIGHTS AND RAN

Was Within 800 Miles of Europe When She Turned Tail and Returned

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 4.—Shrouded in canvas so that not a gleam of light came from her port holes, the treasure ship Kronprinzessin Cecilie, put in at this port early today after a dash back towards America following the receipt of word that Germany was at war and that she might be captured by hostile war ships. She narrowly escaped capture Sunday.

Fog Saved Gold

Carrying $10,000,000 in gold consigned to French and English bankers, the Kronprinzessin would have been a rich prize and Captain Pollock believes that only a heavy fog made it possible for him to escape from two French war ships he knew were searching for his ship.

The Kronprinzessin left New York July 28. She was within 800 miles of England when a wireless was received by Captain Pollock ordering him to put back toward America with all speed.

Sunday night the wireless operator of the North German Lloyd liner intercepted a message from one French ship to another. The first vessel informed the second of the presence of the Kronprinzessin in their vicinity and gave orders that a sharp watch should be kept for her. The warship sending the message was not far from the Kronprinzessin, the wireless operator declared. There came a fog and Captain Pollock's vessel eluded her would-be captors.

Value of Cargo

The exact value of the gold on the liner, with the firms shipping it, according to the liner's manifest, is as follows:

For Paris: Goldman, Sachs & Company, $1,076,634.49; Heidebach, Ickelheimer & Company, $1,584,000 National City bank, $2,104,254.34.

For London: Guarantee Trust company, $4,942,937.64; National City bank, $1,061,718.89. Total, $10,769,545.36.

Captain Pollock said that he was anxious to put his passengers ashore at the earliest possible moment, and was endeavoring to ascertain whether a landing at Bar Harbor, which is neither a customs nor an immigration port, would be satisfactory to the United States.

ENGLAND MUST FIGHT BECAUSE WAR IS DECLARED UPON BELGIUM

BY ED L. KEEN

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Open sneers and jeers at Kaiser Wilhelm sensationalized the sitting of the commons this afternoon. This was England's answer to Germany's protestations that she had been forced into war.

Premier Asquith's explanations of Germany's announced position toward Belgium was flouted by the members. The advocates of immediate warfare outnumbered those who still raised their voices for further temporizing. The United Kingdom believes that Germany has studiously carried forward a series of insults designed to provoke England and force her to assume the onus of a war declaration.

To keep the record straight, Premier Asquith formally demanded that Germany agree by midnight to night to respect Belgium's neutrality. This ultimatum was useless because before it could be presented Germany had answered with a war against Belgium. That alone, if there were no treaty obligations with Russia and France, would demand that England fight. Her own coast line would be at the mercy of a hostile German fleet at all times should Germany take over King Albert's kingdom.

The cabinet was in almost continual session today. Up to the assembling of the commons, the members conferred. The peace members, Viscount Morley and John Burns, have resigned. That of itself was the most significant development of the day.

The mobilization of the navy, Britain's weapon, is complete. The army mobilization has progressed so far that the troops could be put in the field at an hour's notice. War is believed inevitable. The only question is when. Experts say tonight or tomorrow, but no one can definitely say the hour.

The third resignation from the Asquith cabinet because of England's war policy came this evening when Charles F. G. Masterman, chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, resigned.

A cablegram received in La Crosse from Dr. Edward Evans, who left here to attend a clinic in Germany, gives word that he is in London and will sail for the United States on August 14. The cable was brief.

Very brief messages have been received from Miss Esther Stavrum, daughter of Thomas Stavrum, clothier, and Miss Hattie Anderson. They cabled from London and said that everything was favorable for them to return although they did not say when.

Of the other La Crosse people in different parts of Europe little has been heard. Within the past few days relatives have received messages which were written before the strife commenced. Some were about to return at the time of writing.

GERMAN TROOPS ARE RUSHING FORWARD IN POLAND TO WARSAW

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—German troops are rushing forward into Russian Poland. The objective of the initial expedition is believed here to be Warsaw. According to meagre information emanating from the war office, the German army of invasion is already less than 100 miles from that city. This force penetrated Russian Poland at Kalisz.

According to the reports reaching here, the German army has encountered no very serious opposition and none is looked for until the army gets near Warsaw. A strong Russian army is reported at Warsaw, which is highly fortified.

FRENCH CONCENTRATE ON BORDER

Gather men on Belgian Line to Meet German Troops Expected to Cross There

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—Germany declared war on Belgium today. The declaration came after King Albert of Belgium had defied Germany in a belligerent message which declared he would never yield to the terms of the ultimatum sent by Germany this morning so long as a man of his army was left alive.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 4.—With King Albert of Belgium belligerently replying to a German ultimatum that he will permit no violation of his country's neutrality so long as a man of the Belgian army is left alive, and the chamber in session to rush through war legislation, Belgium is today about to strike at the kaiser's troops who have disregarded English warnings and invaded Belgium to strike at France.

Germany threatened Belgium for the second time today. In a note sent to the foreign office the kaiser demanded that Belgium consent to German forces using the railroads to cross to France. If this demand was refused, said the ultimatum, war must be declared.

King Albert immediately replied that under no circumstances would Belgium consent to a violation of her neutrality.

The senate and chamber met in a joint session with King Albert presiding. He was enthusiastically cheered as he ascended the throne. Garber in his dress uniform of commanding general of the Belgian forces, he showed plainly that the dangerous situation of his country overshadowed all else in his mind.

Greatest Peril Since 1830

"Not since 1830 has the Fatherland been exposed to so grave a danger as now faces it," he declared in his opening address. "It is a time when a united Belgium must stand shoulder to shoulder against a common foe."

"Every Belgian must accept every possible means of serving his country. No sacrifice is too great for our beloved Fatherland. I will accept the responsibility laid upon me. Our country has been invaded. Belgium has proclaimed her integrity and she will maintain it with her last drop of blood."

The cabinet has decreed that all

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

BOOMING THE SHOW

BY DONALD ALLEN

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The Boston Ideal Theatrical company was getting ready to take the road for the summer. It would play "Hazel Kirke," "Lady Audley's Secret" and "A Young Girl's Love"—all tremendous successes. The cast was large, and every actor a star.

Miss Vivian Temple had been imported from England, at great expense as leading lady, and her support would be well known Harry P. J. Frothingham, who had supported some of the greatest actresses of the last decade. New scenery by the best artists! New costumes by Worth!

Mr. H. P. J. Frothingham sat in a back room of a second class boarding house in a city. So did his wife who was the Vivian Temple of the stage. He was figuring with a pencil and rumpling his hair, and she was darn- ing a stocking and saying nothing. By and by he shoved back with a groan, and she asked: "Well, how do you make it?"

"I am figuring on opening at Little Falls, and that is forty miles from here."

"Yes?"

"When I get the company up there I won't have a dollar left."

"And if you don't have a big house there, we are busted."

"You've hit it."

"And if we had three good nights the grand summer tour will be a success?"

"A grand success. What scheme have you got?"

"I am going to pawn my watch and go to Little Falls a week ahead of the opening, and I think I can guarantee you three good houses."

"If you can do that you are the greatest leading lady on the boards today. Let's hear your plan."

Three or four days later a handsome woman descended from the once-a-day train at Little Falls and was driven to the inn. She gave her name as Vivian Temple, and promptly stated that she was an actress in a company soon to open there. She had not come on professional business, however. She was a widow, and had been for two years. Some husbands in dying bound their wives not to marry again. They threatened to cut off their income or to haunt them, and acted real mean about it.

Instead of being such a man as that, Mr. Temple had been right the opposite. When told by the doctor that he had only 27 minutes to live, he had said:

"Vivian, old girl, I am going to take a vacation."

She understood what he meant and wept.

"If I asked you not to marry again I suppose you wouldn't?"

"Not in a thousand years!"

"But I'm not going to ask you. It's a mean husband that does that. I shall be up there having a good time, and I don't want to look down on the United States and see you unhappy."

"That is good of you, but I shall respect your memory by refusing all offers, no matter how gilt edged they are."

"Oh, but I can't permit it. I am worth $200,000, and I shall stipulate that unless you marry again within two years you lose every dollar of it. It shall be given to bow legged men."

She promised to carry out his wishes, and he died as happy as a man can after beating Uncle Sam out of his income tax. The widow Temple acknowledged that she was rather slow about some things. She had put off the second husband matter until now there were only five days left. Within that five days she must find a husband or lose that fortune.

Who wanted a wife and $200,000 in cash? Who wanted half of that sum simply for going through a ceremony? She asked the question, the two papers in town asked it, and in a day the whole population was asking it.

There were widows and bachelors and young men who wanted that cash. It appealed to them. They could shut their eyes and see the yellowbacks. Some wanted a wife with it, but they were not going to kick if they got nothing but the money. They were to call on her at the inn. She couldn't stand for the conventions when so much was at stake.

They called. How many? She had no adding machine to keep track of the number. Some lived in the town, and others drove in on the gallop. There was a program about it. Enter John Doe. He found a smiling good looking woman.

"Good morning Mr. Doe. Have you come as a contestant?"

"Yes."

"I am glad of it. I like the looks of you. Have you any objections to marrying an actress?"

"None."

"That is nice of you. I shall put your name on the list and a red star after it. I want you to fully understand the matter. The Boston Ideal Theatrical company is to open here for three nights—the 7th, 8th and 9th."

"I read it so."

"To save my fortune I must be married before midnight on the 9th. The marriage will therefore take place on the stage after the performance."

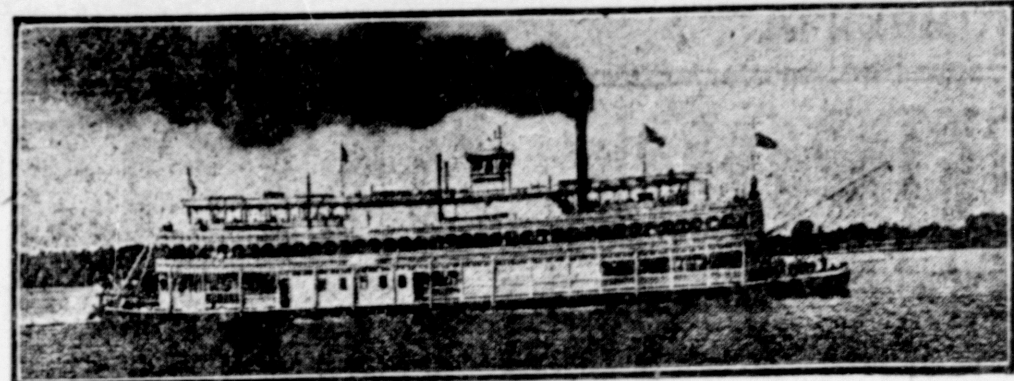

"Golly!"

"If you are the chosen one I hope you will not be too timid to come up."

"Everyone will be looking."

King Albert.

King Albert was the first of the minor monarchs outside the Balkans to get busy in the general European upheaval. He mobilized the troops of Belgium almost as quick as the czar did, and has since been followed by Holland and Switzerland, which countries feel that they must be prepared to preserve neutrality and perhaps independence by force of arms.

your friends with you. Let them see me and give you their opinion."

There was Deacon Sackett, a widower, seventy years old. When he was ushered into the widow's presence he asked:

"Do you bar out a man a leetle over fifty years old?"

"Not at all," was the smiling reply.

"I hadn't thought of gettin' married agin, but I dunno—I dunno. I have six children, but they are all grown up."

"I feel that I shall like each and every one of them."

"I hear that the marriage is to take place on the stage?"

"Yes, on the third night of the play."

"That's it, you see. Our pastor would have me bounced out of the church for even attending a theater. I guess I'll have to give it up, but some other widder woman may come along before I die. It's all the parson's fault. You never saw a man hold such a tight rein on folks. Why, because I played four games of checkers with Abe Smith, and drank five glasses of hard cider while doing it, the parson said I'd never get nigher to heaven than the outer air."

The night of the 7th arrived. So did the Boston Ideals. They didn't need any posters. They had been heralded better than a hundred six-sheet posters could have done it. The people began filling the town hall an hour before the curtain was to go up. When the hall could hold no more they paid for seats on the stove and window sills and the floors of the aisles. Never in history had the big room held such an audience.

It was so the second night, and it was worse the third. There were no aisles left, and the applause was continuous.

At last the act was finished, and there was a mad yell for the Widow Temple.

She appeared with a glad smile in front of the curtain, and was chaperoned by Mr. Frothingham.

She made a statement as to her dying husband's wish, and as to her coming to Little Falls to find some one willing to marry her. She had played fair with the contestants, giving each one an equal show. They were all nice men and she liked them all, but—

"Who is the lucky man?" was the cry.

But she was an actress, and she wanted to remain one. Not one husband out of fifty would permit her to do so, unless he himself was in the profession. Therefore—

"The man! The man! Who is the lucky man?"

In answer to this she joined hands with the actor and a justice of the peace stepped forward and made them man and wife. They were cheered, and the Ideal company got right out of the town on a freight train.

UNITED IRELAND TO ENTER THE WAR

LONDON, Aug. 4.—John Redmond, the Irish leader, electrified the house of commons this afternoon, when, in an impassioned address, he declared that the government can withdraw every soldier from Ireland. "Ireland will be defended by her own sons," he shouted. "The protestants of the north, and the Catholics of the south, will stand shoulder to shoulder in this great national crisis."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. Daddy's Bedtime

The Big Rooster
Story — And the Plucky Little Bantam.

He Crowed Like a Horn.

"O H, daddy," cried Jack excitedly as he and Evelyn hopped upon daddy's knee for the evening story, "the funniest thing happened today! Lemmy Wilson is the biggest boy in my class, and he has been picking on every one else, and today little Louis Snyder licked him easy."

Daddy laughed. "That reminds me of a story, Jack. Your grandfather had the biggest, noisiest white rooster you ever saw and the biggest bully. He used to bully the hens so that the poor things were afraid to eat, and the other roosters were afraid of him too."

"He was terribly fierce and even used to frighten your grandmother and me, and if I had anything to eat in my hand he would chase me until I dropped it."

"Well, one day your grandfather, who never seemed to take very much stock in that strutting old rooster somehow, drove to town, and when he returned he brought back—what do you think? Why, the cunningest little red bantam rooster and hen that you ever saw in a funny little coop all their own! Then he called your grandma and me to come and see."

"Your grandpa was laughing quietly to himself when he went into the chicken yard with that coop and opened it. The little red rooster stepped out, ruffled his feathers and looked around. Then he threw up his head and made the funniest little squeaky crow you ever heard."

"The big white bully rooster heard him. He strutted up, ruffled his feathers and crowed like a horn. I forgot to tell you that he had a crow that was louder than any motor horn you ever heard, and he had used his voice so much that he sounded just as if he had bronchitis."

"Well, the little bantam crowed back in his droll squeak and ruffled his feathers. Then the big fellow jumped for him."

"But instead of running, as we all expected he would, that tiny bantam just stood still, his feathers all ruffled up, and never moved an inch. And now comes the funny part of the story. Instead of pitching into the bantam and giving him a terrible drubbing the white rooster stood still and looked at him. At that the bantam ran toward him, and as the bantam ran the big white rooster retreated."

"Your grandfather clapped his hands with glee. 'Go it, banty' he cried. 'I always knew that bully of a rooster was a great fraud! If he ever saw any one who was not afraid of him I always knew he'd run. Go it! Lick him!'"

"And banty did go to it. He chased him into a corner and pitched into him until the big rooster saw a chance to run out of the door of the hen yard, and if that big rooster hadn't dropped after awhile from sheer fatigue I think he would have been running yet."

WROTE NOTE THAT ENDED IN FIGHTING

Count Berchtold.

Count Berchtold, the prime minister of Austria, is the man who directed the diplomatic correspondence that resulted in the rupture with Serbia and the hot letters that have followed with Russia.

HE NEED NOT PAY BILL OF ANOTHER

Charged with non-payment of a hotel bill at the Nora House, George Enos was brought before Judge John Brindley in county court yesterday. A man representing the firm which employs Enos is alleged to have jumped a bill. Enos was arrested through the belief that he could be made to pay the bill. The case was dismissed because of a lack of proper ground for action.

EATS ITSELF UP IN THE MAKING
The Roosevelt-Perkins-McGovern bull moose theory of the trusts is that they are necessary, economically sound and should be legalized and "controlled." The New Haven was one of the trusts, the formation of which had the colonel's executive consent (in violation of law). Reporting on that trust, after a full investigation, the inter-state commerce commission says:
This investigation has demonstrated that the monopoly theory of those controlling the New Haven was unsound and mischievous in its effects.
To achieve such monopoly meant the reckless and scandalous expenditure of money; it meant the attempt to control public opinion, corruption of government, the attempt to pervert the political and economic instincts of the people in insolent defiance of law.
Through exposure of the methods of this monopoly the invisible government which has gone far in its efforts to dominate New England has been made visible. It has been clearly proved how public opinion was distorted; how officials who were needed and who could be bought were bought; how newspapers that could be subsidized were subsidized; how a college professor and publicists secretly accepted money from the New Haven while masking as a representative of a great American university and as the guardians of the interests of the people; how agencies of information to the public were prostituted wherever they could be prostituted in order to carry out a scheme of private transportation monopoly imperial in its scope.
Let's have another look at that first paragraph: "To achieve such monopoly meant the reckless and scandalous expenditure of money." In other words, as Lieut.-Gov. Thomas Morris has said, the fight to establish monopoly costs so much that even with honest administration the resulting over-capitalization and consequent demand for excessive dividends makes the trust an economic failure and renders its existence impossible excepting by means of special privileges.

PEOPLES ON ALTAR FOR A DYNASTY

Interesting indeed have been the editorials which able American journalists have contributed to the discussion of the European war situation; many of them, it has seemed to us, have touched the vital spot in the situation, but we select the comment of the Chicago Tribune as that which, of all the current writings, goes straight to the heart of the trouble.

Following we reproduce the full text of the Chicago paper's discussion:

Diplomats have expounded and experts have explained. Maps have been printed, history repeated, and the ordinary American still fails to comprehend what this world-wide war is all about.
The reason is that the Americans cannot think in terms of European thought.
To Americans the foundation of all government rests in the people.
The purpose of administration,
however far it may stray, is to carry out the will of the majority, certainly the will of the vast majority.

Any man who would seek to set up a monarchy in the United States would be a criminal, guilty of treason.
In monarchical Europe any man who would seek to set up a republic would be a criminal, guilty of treason.

There government lies not in the people, but in the throne.
The three emperors claim the right to govern as the direct agents of God Almighty. If they govern benignly it is because of their conscience or because of policy.

Popular voice has been recognized in the little things of government, but the awful power of making war
vests in the emperor alone.

Certain it is that war would not come from the votes of the people of Europe, or from free congresses.
If war results it will be a war of dynasties, brought about for dynastic purposes.

The Austrian empire is not a nation. It is a government.
It is composed of many peoples held together partly by coincidence, and largely by the existence, as a matter of fact, of the Hapsburg dynasty, that tremendous "machine" which profits by the empire's existence and which it holds together by the iron hand of martial law, as it has done for centuries.

There is nothing threatening to the people inhabiting the dual kingdom in the Pan-German-Pan-Slav movement. If the German sections and the Slav sections do not work well together in double harness they would both be better apart.

Not so the Austrian monarchy.
For their own defense, not for the defense of any nation, are the Haps-burgs precipitating war.

The interests of the house of Hapsburg appear hostile to the house of Romanoff, so the Czar prepares to throw his peace loving and obedient subjects into war.

Hundreds and thousands will die that one or two may be exalted.
In this situation the German kaiser thinks it necessary for him to lead his legions into the field, whereupon France, England, and Italy, one actual and two practical republics, are thrown into the vortex.

India may rise. China and Japan may seek the opportunity to expel the white man from their territories, even to follow him to his own.
Civilization faces very destruction for the sake of the house of Hapsburg and the interests of the house of Romanoff!

If war come, which God forbid,
the damage and misery will be immeasurable.

If it does come, let us hope that it will bring about the downfall of the barbarous conditions whereby one man or one family can slaughter a nation of men for personal interest or aggrandizement.

Woe
The garden seeds that I put down
this spring
Have not sent up the green stuff worth a ding.
I planted radishes (?) and worked on them for hours;
An expert tells me now they are sunflowers.
The best I've ever got from garden seeds
Has been a crop of swear words and
of weeds;
I'll monkey with the gol dum things
no more,
But buy my green stuff at the grocery store.

His Memory Was Good
For a long time James and Maude had courted. Eventually the engagement was announced, and to the loving pair the future looked as beautiful as if it had received a new coat of paint.
But, alas! one evening there was a misunderstanding, and then came the bitter quarrel. With flashing eyes the proud beauty yanked off the $30 diamond ring.
"Take your ring!" she dramatically cried. "I have decided that I can never be your wife! I shall expect you to return everything you have in your possession that belongs to me!"
"All I have is a lock of your hair and a photograph," sadly replied James. "You will hardly care for the photo, but the lock of hair you no doubt wish to preserve as a souvenir."
"As a souvenir of what, pray?"
imperiously demanded the angry Maude.
"Of the time when you were a brunnette."

The Worn-out Pasture
Appropos of the ravages that time has made in the faces and forms of the veterans of the civil war, Walter S. Morton, president general of the Union society, said at a recent dinner in New York:
"A veteran, talking to his great grandson, a little lad of 8 or 9 years remarked:
"Nearly a generation and a half ago my head was grazed by a bullet at the battle of Chickamauga."
"The little boy looked at the old man's head thoughtfully and said:
"There isn't much grazing there now, is there, sir?"

The Wisdom of Mandy
A colored woman in Savannah was preparing to get married. For four weeks before the ceremony she saved up her wages, and immediately after the wedding she hunted up her mistress and asked her to take charge of the fund.

"I'll take it, of course," said the puzzled lady, "but, Mandy, won't you be needing your money to spend on your honeymoon?"
"Miss May," said the bride, "does you think I'm going to trust myself wid a stranger fer a husband and all that money on me?"

No Dog
In the good old days when no child dared reply to a question from an elder without the "Sir" or "Madam," a gentleman now past middle age recalls an awesome scene—at his father's table.
A stubborn little sister, having been denied a second helping of her favorite dessert, was asked if she wished some bread and butter instead, to which she defiantly answered "No!"
"No, cat? or no, dog?" asked the father with ominous calm.
"No, dog," was the reckless answer that set the table in silent convulsions.—National Monthly.

The Lesser Evil
The man from Glasgow had suffered grievously in crossing the ocean, and when he next had occasion to repeat the journey, he did not intend that there should be so much acute physical discomfort attached to it. So he marched into a drug store.
"Have ye anything to stay the pangs of seasickness?" he asked, in his winning Glasgow accent.
"Certainly, sir; we have the very thing," said the obliging druggist.
"Hoo much is it?"
"Two dollars a bottle."
The Glaswegian staggered back a pace, visibly shaken. "Losh!" he gasped, when he recovered himself.
"I would sooner be seasick!"

Convincing
An old colored man, near Victoria, Tex., who was the only Baptist in the neighborhood, always "stuck up for his own faith," and was ready with a reason for it, although he was unable to read a word. This was the way he "put 'em down": "Yo' kin read, now, kaint yo'?"
"Yes."
"Well, I s'pose yo' read de Bible, kaint yo'?"
"Yes."
"Yo' read 'bout John de Baptis', kaint yo'?"
"Yes."
"Well, yo' never read 'bout John de Medofis', did yo'?"

Poetry and Youth.
If poets sing to the young, and the young hall their own interpreters in poets, it is because the tendency of both is to idealize the realities of life, finding everywhere in the real a something that is noble and fair, and making the fair yet fairer and the noble nobler still.—Bulwer.

Logansport, Ind.—"My baby was over a year old and I bloated till I was a burden to myself. I suffered from female trouble so I could not stand on my feet and I felt like millions of needles were pricking me all over. At last my doctor told me that all that would save me was an operation, but this I refused. I told my husband to get me a bottle of submit to any operation. He did so and I improved right along. I am now doing all my work and feeling fine.

It was our Meg, who threw her arms about my neck in so resolute a manner that she was like to strangle me on the spot, all the time crying, as she used to do when I was a boy in the north country:
"Oh, Dicky—Dicky!" And then she twisted me about so she might look into my face. "Eh, the great bearded fellow—yet who would not know him that had ever seen him!"
"Why, Meg!" I cried, when her hold of me had relaxed so I could fill my lungs.
"Meg, indeed, sir! Mistress Jarvis, if you please; and for these fifteen months past!" Mary interrupted, laughing.
"Is it so, Meg?" I asked.
"There's one who will have his way with a woman. Eh, Dickey, I had an honest wish to stay single, but who'd be proof against the fellow who says 'Set the day' forty times a day, I vow!"
And Meg looked both pride and displeasure; but it required only half an eye to see she was well satisfied to have been so earnestly wooed.
And Meg's altered state having received its due of recognition, there was all the news from home that I must hear, which Mary told me, while Meg beamed on us, adding her weight of asseveration where she thought the narrative would gain by
it. Tom and Bet were living with my father and mother at Dane's Hill farm, so they should not be too lonely, and all were talking of coming to Virginia, especially Tom, who professed to see little use of younger sons remaining in England when there were these new continents of such fabulous richness needing men of English birth and in such imminent hazard of being seized on by Jack Spaniard.

Here Marshall came to us from the deck.
"Which will it be—England or Virginia—Farraday?" he asked, smiling.
"Lord, sir, it has naught to do with that!" cried Meg.
And she said truly, for I was living in that world of perfect fancy which one may enter from the ends of the earth, and which knows neither England nor Virginia.
When Marshall and Jarvis had helped me to build one of the properest houses in all Virginia, Mary and I were married in the James Town church, which Lord De la Warr had ordered should be handsomer decked with flowers for the wedding; nor did his civility to us stop here; we must be entertained at a great banquet which he gave in our honor aboard his flagship.

Now, I care little enough to mutter over great names, being a Virginia planter and holding my acres from the crown, and inclining to treat all comers on an equal footing, whether above or below me it matters not; but my liking for his lordship rests on quite another footing than this worldly estate, since he was ever distinguished for his private virtues and his devotion to the welfare of our colony.

My own happiness, and those years of plenty Virginia was destined to know, seemed to have a common beginning. In due time was given my grant of land, and with Master
John Rolfe, who afterward married Pocahontas, I was one of the first settlers to experiment with the growing of tobacco, which has put pounds in all our pockets where there were but shillings before.

John Smith never again set foot on the soil of Virginia, though he won much fame further north as an explorer of new regions and as a writer of many useful books that bore upon his discoveries. Though I was destined never to see him again, yet I heard from him many times by letter during the latter years of his life.
As might have been expected, Tom and Betty did eventually come out to Virginia. This was some two years after my marriage; and there was another interval of two years, when my mother and father followed them; and I have never heard it even whispered that they desired to go back.

GERMAN AIRSHIP DAMAGES VILLAGE

Zeppelin Drops Bomb Into French Town of Luneville and Kills Fifteen

PARIS, Aug. 4.—German aviators killed fifteen persons and badly damaged the historic town of Luneville in the department of Meurthe et Moselle, early today. At dawn a big Zeppelin dirigible, flying low, passed over the Church of St. Jacques and dropped a quantity of high explosives. It missed the church and fell in the square alongside. One of the side walls of the church was demolished and a patrol of troops stationed was annihilated.

French aviators were despatched from Nancy today to locate the Zeppelin. While it is admitted that in war it is the privilege of an enemy to inflict every possible damage on the fighting forces of his opponents the dropping of bombs on unprotected towns is declared by French officials to be a violation of the rules of civilized warfare.

It is stated that the Germans tried to destroy the historic palace of Lorraine but that their bombs missed the mark.

FRANCE NOTIFIES U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The French embassy notified the state department today that a "state of war exists in France and has existed since August 1."

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Wrinkles

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis ground or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a sea trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid orison of more perplexing still, a vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercolized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or injury. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. In a week or so you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness. Wrinkles, so apt to form at this season, may be easily and quickly removed by belining the face in a solution of powdered excolite, 1 oz. dissolved in witch hazel, 4 pt. This is not only a valuable astringent, but has a beneficial tonic effect also.

LINER HITS WARSHIPS

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm is today steaming along the Atlantic coast in search of three German warships. The liner has no passengers aboard, but it was reported after she had cleared port last night that her mission was to locate the German warships and supply them with fuel and provisions.

Don't expend all your admiration on your ancestors. Save a little for yourself.

PROHIBIT EXPORT OF STORES

LONDON, Aug. 4.—An official decree issued today prohibits the exportation of war stores of any character. It was made public in picturesque fashion by the crier of the house of commons, who in full regalia, read it to the crowd assembled in front of the steps leading to the royal exchange.

It would take a magnifying glass to discover that some people have any visible means of support.

Latest Photograph of Europe's "War Lord."

This is the latest photograph of Kaiser Wilhelm, the "War Lord," who is believed to have counseled Emperor Franz Josef in his attack on Serbia which is bringing on a general European war. For many years the Kaiser has talked war, only to remain the greatest peace maker of Europe. All that time he has been preparing his army and building a German fleet. Military experts declare that the German army organization is now the most perfect ever known on such a large scale. Some of them think the Kaiser has come to the conclusion that the hour for action has struck.

Peter Fischbach Was Going on the Imperator But War Holds the Vessel

Peter Fischbach, 223 Rose street, general section foreman of the Milwaukee here, has had to give up a cherished plan, at least for the present.

Some time ago Mr. Fishbach wrote to New York for passage on the steamer Imperator for Germany, before the outbreak of the European war. Some few days ago, Mr. Fishbach received the ticket, good for use on the Imperator, which was booked to sail from New York September 2. Now the war has broken and the man must postpone his trip indefinitely.

One Bath or Twenty Always Piping Hot Water

With a Humphrey Automatic Geyser in the house—you are never out of hot water.

No matter how many baths are required—no matter how much needed for washing, or scrubbing or cleaning—no matter at what hour of the day or night it may be—you are always sure of an unlimited supply of fresh hot water at an instant's notice—simply on the turning of a faucet.

The Humphrey Automatic Geyser

heats the water as it flows. The opening of a faucet anywhere in the house turns on the water and lights the gas in the heater, from a tiny pilot. The wonderful bunsen burners heat the water as it flows through the coils of copper tubing and deliver it to you instantly, scalding hot.

The action of the Humphrey is entirely automatic—requires no care or attention on your part—cannot possibly burn gas excepting while water is being drawn.

The Humphrey is Guaranteed

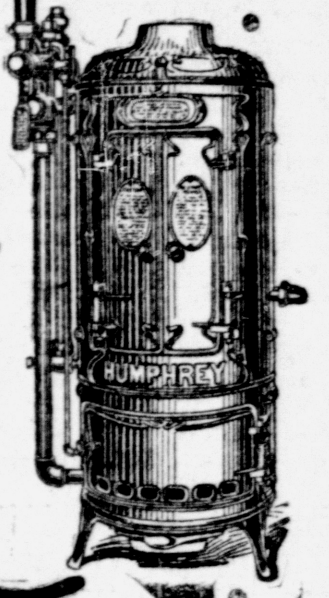

Put it into your house and try it for thirty days. If it isn't entirely satisfactory in every way notify us to take it out and it will be removed at once and all charges against you cancelled.

Call at our office and see the Humphrey Automatic Geyser, or telephone for our hot water man to call at your convenience.

MIDGET LEAGUE RESUMES PLAYING

After a two weeks' vacation, the midget league indoor baseball teams resumed their schedule last night at Copeland park.

In a rather ragged game the Pirates beat the Japers by a 12 to 4 score. The Champs and the Stars played one of the closest games of the season, the former winning out, 6 to 5.

The game between the Nelsons and the Combinations ended 5 to 2 in favor of the Nelsons, but Manager William O'Gar of the Combinations entered a protest alleging unfair play.

DAHL PROUD OF BOB'S FRIENDSHIP

STOUGHTON, Wis., Aug. 4.—
That he has always been a friend of La Follette,—"God knows he deserves my friendship. I am no Judas," was a telling statement in the speech of Andrew H. Dahl, Republican candidate for governor, before an audience in this city tonight.
Mr. Dahl reviewed the history of finance in this campaign, took issue with Emanuel L. Philipp over the initiative and referendum, and devoted considerable of his time to a discussion of boards and commissions, the cost of bad government and the University. "Which costs the more, good government or bad government?" asked Mr. Dahl.
"Which do you want in Wisconsin, railroad regulation by the railroad commission, or railroad regulation by Mr. Morgan, Mellen and Philipp?" Mr. Dahl favored the Home Rule amendment, and urged the adoption of the Initiative and Referendum, which he said would give the people the final veto over legislation.

Mr. Dahl was accompanied by Edward F. Dithmar, candidate for Lieutenant governor.

ANT AN ENEMY OF MANKIND.

Ants are not only a nuisance, but are capable of transmitting disease, and some varieties are deadly. Current medical literature cites the case of a child that was left alone, sought amusement in a hill of red ants, and was stung to death. It is stated that white ants have done incalculable damage to the walls and flooring of the Smithsonian building in Washington.
A few specimens that were imported from South America for experimental purposes escaped and have multiplied to countless billions.

Exterminate the Cockroach.
The cockroach acts as an insect porter of typhoid fever, bubonic plague and possibly cancer. Several years ago an epidemic of typhoid fever on a United States warship was proved to be propagated by cockroaches. In a recent issue of the London Lancet, Dr. W. Melville Davison calls attention to the fact that the cause of cancer may be an alga or vegetable micro-organism which is found in the intestines of several species of roaches.

Daily Thought.
A man who lives right and is right has more power in his silence than another by his words. Character is like bells which ring out sweet music and which, when touched accidentally even, resound with sweet music.—

GERMANS AMBUSH COSSACK SCOUTS

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—Dispatches from Posen tell of the ambushing of a scouting party of Cossacks by German infantry at a point between Borsekowo and the Warta river.

The German forces were concealed in a forest near the main highway, and when the Cossacks approached, they were fired on. Five Russians fell at the first volley and a score were wounded. Although taken by surprise the Cossacks quickly reformed and charged, only to be met with another series of volleys. The advance guard of the Cossack column surrendered but the main body retreated toward the river. Twenty-five Russians were killed.

that a bee visits about 25 flowers per minute, and that it always keeps to the same species of flower during each visit to the fields.

Truth vs. Falsehood.
Truth is irresistible. Falsehood may for a time stay its progress, but it cannot prevent its eventual triumph.
An economic fact, founded on nature, will win its way despite the combined forces of those who benefit by inequitable customs and wicked laws. There can be but one conclusion to the battle of truth vs. falsehood.

Monarchs Who Make Up the Triple Alliance

Kaiser Wilhelm is the dominant figure in the Triple Alliance (Germany, Austria, and Italy.) He has maintained the inheritance of Bismarck, who organized the Triple Alliance for the purpose of protecting the integrity of the German speaking peoples of Germany and Austria, chiefly against reprisals of France after her defeat in 1870 and the possible aggression of mighty Russia in the future. The Triple Alliance has maintained the peace of Europe for more than a quarter of a century. The crisis brought about

FRANCE THANKS ITALY

PARIS, Aug. 4.—"Happy is our sister to the south; she does not have to fight," was the declaration with which Premier Viviani greeted formal announcement by Prince Rus-poli, Italian charge here, of Italy's determination to remain neutral in the European war. Viviani thanked the Italian diplomat.

"Tell Me the Secret"

"How do you make such delicious muffins? Mine are always so dry."
And if I make the batter thin they fall.
How do you do it?"

"I make them
about as you do,
only I use K C Baking Powder. Mine always turn out well, so it must be the baking powder."

It is the baking powder. To make muffins, cakes and pastry rich and moist, yet light and feathery, a modern double acting baking powder must be used—one that will give off leavening gas in the oven as well as in the mixing bowl.

KC BAKING POWDER

is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which starts to raise as soon as moisture is added. The other is inactive until heat is applied. This sustains the raise until your muffins, biscuits or cake is done.

K C Baking Powder costs less than the old fashioned quick acting kinds, yet you need use no more and it is superior to them in every way.

Try a can at our risk and be convinced.

NAVAL BATTLE MAY BE FOUGHT OUTSIDE AMERICAN 3 MILE ZONE

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Merchant vessels leaving New York are hugging the shore and taking every precaution to keep in neutral waters, fearing that with a declaration of war by England a naval battle may be fought off Sandy Hook. Such a fight is possible and might be fought three miles outside the Hook without violating the war rules of the sea.

The liner Kron Prinz Wilhelm was heard calling the German cruiser Dresden by wireless operators today. The Strassburg and Karlsruhe, German warships, are also close by. Two mysterious cruisers have been seen by steamers and though they were flying no flag, they are believed to be the British ships Essex and Suffolk. The French cruiser Conde has left Vera Cruz and is believed near the American shore in the Atlantic. With a declaration of war by England it is believed the Essex, Sul-folk and Conde might move forward to attack the German vessels.

Doctor Speaks Out to Coffee Drinkers

The Boston Advertiser of June 15, 1914, quotes
Dr. D. H. Kress, of Chicago, in an address as saying that tea, coffee and cocoa cause more deaths than alcohol.

"These table beverages are sapping the life of our nation. They are making us a race of weak-kidney-ed, weak-livered beings, unable to reproduce ourselves.
The kidneys and liver do not perform their proper functions, and the waste matter left in the system tends to bring on arteriosclerosis.

"Statistics show conclusively that as the consumption of coffee, tea and cocoa have increased, the number of nervous diseases and insanity have increased proportionately."

This strong statement from a medical authority, cannot be lightly disregarded.

It is easy to prove in one's own case whether coffee is the cause of frequent "spells" of nervousness, indigestion, biliousness, liver complaint, headache, heart disturbance and other ills.

Quit coffee 10 days, and in its place use

POSTUM

—then note the difference.

Made from prime wheat and a bit of molasses, Postum is a pure food-drink, entirely free from the pernicious drugs i tea and coffee, or any other harmful substance.

In thousands of homes Postum supplies a table beverage, pleasant to the taste, and to be used freely as a builder, where coffee and tea tear down.

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum, must be boiled, 15c and 25c pkgs.

Instant Postum, a soluble form, made in the cup instantly, 30c and 50c tins.

Grocers everywhere sell both kinds and the cost per cup is about the same.

FINDS HER MOTHER DEAD IN HER BED

When Mrs. Mary Kinney Fails to Answer Call Daughter Finds Her Dead

Failing to get a response when she called her mother at 6:30 this morning, Miss Mary Kinney, 113 West Avenue south, entered her room and found her mother had been dead for some hours. Mrs. Mary Kinney was 77 years old. She has been a resident of La Crosse for two years and has lived in Wisconsin since she was 17 years old.

Mrs. Kinney has been robust in health. Her only confinements to her home have been through colds. She retired at her usual hour last night, and did not complain of being ill.

Miss Mary Kinney the eldest daughter was in the habit of knocking at her mother's door in the morning. When Mrs. Kinney did not appear at the breakfast table the daughter again went to her door. She knocked and then went in.

A physician was notified immediately. He said that heart failure was the cause, and that Mrs. Kinney had died in her sleep.

Mrs. Kinney was born in Ireland near Belfast. Her parents emigrated to America when she was 17. Mrs. Kinney's husband died 22 years ago, while the family were residing on a farm in Coon Valley. They lived there until two years ago. Mrs. Kinney retained the farm at the time of her death.

Miss Mary and Miss Rose Kinney, daughters, and one son, George, survive. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

GERMAN TROOPS STEADILY MOVE UPON FRANCE AND FRENCH CAPITAL

PARIS, Aug. 4.—The advance guard of Germany's millions is steadily pushing forward into French territory. An army of 100,000 men, including all branches of service, is massed on the Luxembourg frontier, while a second supporting column has moved westward from Metz. It is considered certain that the German plan is to attempt to penetrate the defenses at Maubeuge and then push straight across country in a dash on Paris. The French forces are prepared. The mobilization was complete last night and General Joffre, commander-in-chief, is in personal command.

In the skirmishing to date success has crowned the French efforts. Raiding parties of German cavalry, and a motorcycle corps that tried to penetrate back of Nancy, to cut off communication, was ambushed. A dozen were killed, and a number, some estimates go as high as 100, captured. The attack on Longwy has been repulsed, as has that on Belfort. Germans are said to be on the frontier near Belfort.

WANTS HORSE THIEVES

James Holly, proprietor of a livery at Rushford, has asked the aid of the La Crosse police department in locating two men who, he says, stole a team of horses and a buggy from him last Thursday. They did not return after renting the team. The team was sold at Chatfield.

SIMPLE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get about two ounces of plain powdered norexin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores and do not get them out after they become hard. The powdered norexin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

or lasso tigerish "muskies" on the untrodden shores of those far lakes. He made it good by borrowing Dr. George F. Hauser's heavy artillery, and it was with admonitions of caution and good wishes for a full game bag that his friends bade him farewell as he departed for "the happy hunting grounds."

Not a word of Mr. Higbee's true purposes had escaped prior to his departure, and while the essential facts of the story has transpired, his censorship has been so complete that even his intimates cannot say whether the hunting story was a complete hoax, or whether in his contempt for the ordinary Mr. Higbee will take his bride into the wilds of Canada to spend their honeymoon in a birch bark canoe and a lonely tepee under the virgin pines of "the forest primeval."

UNION LEADERS SIGN AGREEMENT

Labor Leaders Agree to Arbitrate When Railroads Withdraw Demand for Hearing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The agreement to arbitrate the threatened strike of 98 big western railroads was signed early today by both sides.

After a visit to the white house, Judge Knapp, chairman of the federal mediation board, declared this contract insures peace for at least a year and a half, because the arbitrators' board will not reach a conclusion until after the holidays and its findings will be binding for one year.

By the agreement the railroads surrender their contention that the board of arbitration shall consider a proposal for a new schedule based upon a "service period". It was this demand which served as a stumbling block, as the engineers and firemen declined to arbitrate on that basis. The plan advanced by the arbitration board was that the schedule of 1912 be reinstated, and that only the question of wages be arbitrated at this time. Officials of the engineers and firemen promptly accepted this proposal, and yesterday the railroad managers yielded to President Wilson's appeal.

La Crosse officials of the B. of L. E. and The B. of L. E. & F. declared today that so far as they knew the strike would take place Aug. 7, as scheduled. A letter from Presidents Carter and Stone, dated Aug. 1, contains a warning against being misled by reports of agreements to arbitrate.

However, as today's dispatches declare that the officials of the unions have signed the arbitration agreement, and that the railroads have yielded the demand that a proposal of their own be included in the arbitration, it seems probable that before Aug. 7 official word will come from Presidents Carter and Stone canceling the strike order.

KAISER "JUSTIFIES" WAR WITH RUSSIA

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—Kaiser Wilhelm's justification for war against Russia was made public today. For information of the reichstag he published in the White Book all the notes and orders forwarded by the German chancellor to the Kaiser's embassies in Vienna, London, Paris, Rome and St. Petersburg, together with telegrams between the high officials of those countries and the German government. The White Book holds that these messages prove the "complete duplicity of the Russian ministers." The telegrams protest vigorously against the action of Russian ambassadors and military attaches.

Do Modern Dances Make Wrinkles?

It is strictly a newspaper notion that because the dances of the day are strenuous they develop signs of age. Worry and carelessness may make wrinkles, but the activity of clean dancing, never! Wrinkles are due more to improper care of the skin, neglect and too strenuous mental activity. They may be avoided or cured by using a simple protective and stimulative vegetable cream jelly before retiring. Just get one ounce of almozoin from your druggist—dissolve it in ½ pint of water and, before retiring, cover the wrinkled surface with this cream, which dries quickly and both protects against the night air and draws the skin smooth, will not grow hair and immediately forces the blood to build out the flesh so wrinkles disappear.

HOLDUP MAN COMES HERE TO ROB AND POLICE ARREST HIM

Tom Hill, La Crescent, Minn., for Whom Police Have Been Searching is Taken

BURGLARIZED NORTH SIDE SALOON

Admits That Crime to Police After Giving Them run through North Side Today

HELD UP A MINNESOTA FARMER

Took Thirty Dollars From Man Near La Crescent Went Through Tramps in a Barn

Tom Hill, about 32 years of age, La Crescent, Minn., well connected there, wanted for the robbery of a Minnesota farmer and for the holdup of tramps in a barn near that place, was captured on the north side this morning by Police Chief John B. Webber and Detective Daniel Deeneen, after he had given the officers a chase through Copeland park.

Hill's capture was due to his robbery last night of P. J. Kelley's saloon, 420 Mill street, which he confessed and most of the proceeds from which were found on his person when arrested.

Hill is a son of the late Jacob Hill of La Crescent and is one of a family of boys all of whom, with his exception, are industrious and hard working.

He first came into prominence as a holdup man when he stopped a farmer, driving between La Crescent and Dakota, and took $30 away from him.

His second offense was when he, with a nephew, much younger, "went through" tramps asleep in a barn and relieved them of approximately $14. The latter offense occurred about three months ago.

Hill entered the Kelley saloon by a side door. He took over fifty pennies from the cash drawer, two watches and small change. Fifty-three pennies, both watches and 85 cents in money was found on his person when arrested.

The police were on the north side searching for a man who was attempting to sell a watch. They traced him down from the north side and were about to give up the chase when Chief Webber caught sight of Hill near the Goddard cement works at St. Cloud and Mill streets, walking north.

Detective Deeneen went up Mill street to head him off. He saw the detective and ran through Copeland park. He was cornered.

GERMANS TO HOLD AMERICAN VISITORS

Will Allow no Foreigners to Leave Until Mobilization is Complete

ACCEPTABLE TO UNITED STATES

Congress Will be Asked to Appropriate $2,500,000 For Relief of Citizens Abroad

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The German embassy notified the state department that during the period of mobilization in Germany, until completed, no foreigners, not even American tourists, would be permitted to leave the country.

Secretary Bryan had nothing to indicate the duration of the period of German mobilization, but it is expected to last some days and will interfere temporarily with the relief work and departure of Americans. Secretary Bryan said the United States would be satisfied to wait a reasonable time until mobilization is concluded.

The official plan for relieving distress of Americans marooned abroad, was announced by the White house today as follows:

Congress will be asked to appropriate $2,500,000 to be dispersed by this government through its agents in Europe for the purpose of relieving the distress of Americans who have checks but cannot get them cashed, and those with no funds.

Congress will be asked to empower Secretary McAdoo to appoint fiscal agents in Europe to supervise these disbursements.

Arrangements will be made at once to send a United States vessel, with consent of foreign governments under our flag, in order to provide this gold if needed immediately.

War Bulletins

BRUSSELS, Aug. 4.—According to the burgemeister of Antwerp, German forces have crossed into the province of Limburg, the southeast province of the Netherlands. He has received notification that martial law has been declared in Holland and that the government will open the dykes and flood the country should Germany persist in an invasion.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—Advices from the French minister to Serbia received today report another failure on the part of the Austrian army to cross the Save river. A brigade of Austrians are reported to have been led into a trap by the Serbians and cut to pieces with a loss of 300 killed.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 4.—Reports received here today declared that the British steamer Queen Maud has been seized by the German cruiser Leipzig of Magdalena bay. The Queen Maud was enroute from Australia to San Francisco with 6,000 tons of coal. As war has not yet been declared between England and Germany the report is doubted.

The Suffrage Movement And Womanly Beauty

The newspapers happily have proven by printing photographs of many suffrage leaders that they are up to the minute, both as to clothes and as to beauty and we contend modern women are beautiful because they have learned to care for themselves and study beauty methods. Then too, we have found an astonishing thing—namely that they have discarded face powder. The reason complexion suffers so much in summer is because powder does not offer sufficient protection against the hot sun. A plain spumax lotion not only safeguards the skin from the elements, but in itself is a beautifier of great worth. To prepare this lotion at home, dissolve 4 ounces spumax from druggist's in ½ pint hot water (or witch hazel) and add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. This applied to the skin becomes invisible and imparts a velvety softness and dainty tint to a rough faded skin, relieving that shiny oily appearance, and its use will insure a lovely clear complexion.

TO DROP CHARGES AGAINST WERMUTH

C. E. Butler Decides Not to File Complaint With Police Commission

C. E. Butler, 601 North Ninth street, traveling salesman for the La Crosse Plumbing Supply Co., has informed the police that he does not intend to file with the police and fire commission a complaint against Patrolman William Wermuth who arrested his son, Eric and Nic Douglas, another young man, for being members of a party from which vulgar language emanated.

Just what prompted Mr. Butler to drop his intended complaint is not known. Some time ago he talked the matter over with John Z. Langdon, president of the trial board, according to the story of his son and young Douglas, and Mr. Langdon was anxious to have the matter pushed, even pointed out certain changes to make in the complaint which would insure a stronger case against the patrolman.

Wermuth Act Legal
Local attorneys and members of the police department were awaiting with interest the outcome of the intended case against Wermuth because of the legal questions involved.

Young Butler and Douglas were members of a party, a member of which, E. M. Young claimed to the police, was using vulgar language. Mr. Young, a druggist, Third and Main streets, called the police. Patrolman Wermuth was assigned to the case. He met Young, who informed him that the young man he believed had used the bad language had gone, but pointed Douglas and Butler out as members of the party.

They denied knowledge of the other's identity and were taken to the station, "to see the chief." Chief Webber was busy on a check forgery case and ordered that they be held until he had time to talk to them.

Held Over Night

They were released the next morning.

Police officials point out that Wermuth was justified in making the arrest on Section 42 of City Ordinance No. 13 which reads that whenever two or more persons shall be found together in a party from which obscene language comes and it is impossible to establish the identity of the offender "each and all such persons who shall be convicted of being present at the place where and during the time when such language was used, shall be deemed guilty of improper and disorderly conduct, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars."

WAR DECLARED ON BELGIUM TODAY BY THE KAISER

special classes of reserves shall be summoned to the colors immediately and the entire Belgian army mobilized.

With the warlike reply of the Belgian king returned, the Germans waited no longer, but put troops across the border. The German army which had concentrated at Cologne crossed the frontier today at Verden. They are declared to have seized the railroad and to be advancing in force, preceded by an armored train and flanked by motorcycle corps.

Causes Sensation

The announcement of the German invasion caused a sensation when the war minister officially announced the fact to the chamber of deputies.

The Kaiser is apparently planning to send an invading army across the French-Belgian border, knowing France is poorly fortified there. The wildest excitement was caused here early today when three German dirigibles were seen maneuvering high above the city. It is assumed the war craft came from Cologne. After reconnoitering about, for an hour or more the airships disappeared eastward in the direction of the German border.

Different Eyeglasses For Different Faces

Whether you "look well in eyeglasses" or not depends upon the shape of the lens.

Your face isn't the shape or size of Cousin John's or Aunt Sue's. Then, why should all of you expect to wear the same shape and size lens and still have your glasses look well?

Our first consideration is of course accuracy and comfort. But we do not forget appearance.

We have our own prescription shop machines with which we shape from the rough crystal a lens that is best suited in shape and size to your features.

We have no competition in our method of making and fitting glasses. This is just a part of our SERVICE.

POWERS TRY TO SHIFT THE BLAME

Each Nation Involved in Europe's Great War Places Burden on Other

GERMANY BLAMES TRIPLE ENTENTE

By Declaring She Was Attacked She Hopes to Force Italy Into Fight

BY ED L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Aug. 4.—With Germany's formal declaration of war upon France making it certain that England will be the next nation to step into the European conflict, every power involved is today endeavoring to escape responsibility for the slaughter, devastation and suffering of the world's greatest war which is now breaking.

Blames France
In its declaration of war against France today, Germany sought to show that the republic was the aggressor during the past three days. The Kaiser has also sought to lay at the door of the Czar the responsibility for the break between their nations. Russia has passed responsibility back on Germany.

England will also hold the Kaiser responsible for the conflict which will set Europe back a half century and wipe out a large part of her male population. From the small spark of the ultimatum delivered to Serbia by Austria has sprung the flame now enveloping the most powerful nations of the world.

Standing aloof, shielding her people from disaster, Italy is endeavoring to avoid the conflict, but pressing down upon her is Germany, demanding that she live up to the terms of the triple alliance and aid in "resisting the attack of Russia and France."

Wants to Bring Italy In
It is the claim that these two nations attacked him that the Kaiser has seized upon, not only to put himself in a favorable light before the world, but to put Italy in the position of refusing to fulfill the duty imposed upon her by the alliance.

Italy insists that the Kaiser and Austria are engaged in a war of aggression. Upon the grounds that the triple alliance is only for defensive purposes she is maintaining neutrality.

MONEY CONDITIONS GOOD IN LA CROSSE

The trying financial conditions in Europe and the large cities of this country do not seem to disturb the bankers of La Crosse to any extent. They report the local situation as entirely normal and feel that they will be able to supply such currency as may be needed for local purposes without difficulty. There is $500,000,000 currency printed up and ready for circulation under the Aldrich-Vreeland act as soon as banks can comply with its provisions. This supply ought to be available within ten days or two weeks and it is sufficient to take care of the United States and move our crops this fall. The precautionary measures taken in the eastern cities are merely for the purpose of preventing the European nations now at war from drawing on our supply of gold, which is the largest in the world, and which we need and intend to keep for our own purposes.

It is expected that business will move along as usual in La Crosse.

YOU ARE NOT GOING DOWN THERE FOR THAT POUCH I DROPPED

IF ITS THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW YOU JUST BET I AM

MAN, you are not alone in your desire for a clean, small chew that will give you tobacco satisfaction! That's why men are glad to find "Right-Cut."

Then when they've got it, the natural thing to do is to tell a friend—so he can get the Real Tobacco Chew.

Pure, rich tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shreds so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

If your dealer does not sell it, send us 10c. in stamps for a pouch of "Right-Cut" Chewing Tobacco.

How Russian Recruits Are Taught to Kill

The raw Russian recruit, who is held as a reserve for times such as have come in Europe, is being hurried into the great mobilization camps of the Czar to make up the enormous army of 1,250,000. He is now gathering for defense against Germany or attack on Austria. These troops are taught actual use of the bayonet long before they even get a uniform.

In the case shown in the photograph the recruit is stabbing a dummy figure with a bayonet, under the instruction of non-commissioned officers. He is taught the vital places in the human body that he may waste no strength. Every Russian soldier who withstands a charge of German or Austrian infantry will know where to place his bayonet to end as quickly as possible the earthly career of his foe.

IN BOYVILLE

NO PIGNIC IS COMPLETE WITHOUT THE LOSS OF ONE CHILD OR MORE.

FANATICAL FANCIES

There is nothing impossible in the world.

So think the down-lipped Summits after their heart-breaking game Sunday at Viroqua.

One of their players has racked his brain and brought to light sixteen errors. And he is not certain but that there were even more. As the result of Sunday's game, the stovemakers are due to receive a shakeup.

It is rumored that a near star from the Windy city is to join the lineup.

Verging into the classic, Eddie Konetchy is some boy at that.

Eddie very neatly hammered out a little four base wallop yesterday afternoon, driving in three men and incidentally winning the game from the Dodgers.

And he did the trick in the thirteenth.

Alexander had an off day yesterday. All he could do was to plaster the Cubs with a 5 to six shutout for which the Cubs are thankful. It might have been worse.

And the Six did a mighty deed by pushing over a beating of the Athletics. Mack used three throwers and three catchers. Callahan worked out the same number of hurlers, who all threw to Schalk. Too many cooks spoil the soup.

SHOE DEALERS PICNIC

Upwards of sixty people enjoyed the annual picnic Sunday of the La Crosse Retail Shoe Dealers' association. The party left the city at 9 o'clock in automobiles, going to Oehler's cave in Mormon Coulee. Dinner and supper were served at the cave, the picnicers returning late in the evening. There was a baseball game between the shoe dealers and their employees.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid, which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. Chas. A. Beyerling, Druggist, 503 Main street.

MORRIS TALKS ON EVILS OF TRUSTS

Candidate for United States Senate Says Over-Capitalization of Monopolies is Criminal

OUTLINES ANTI-TRUST PROGRAM

Explains Remedies for Present Shortcomings — Is Making Auto Tour of Dane County

CAMBRIDGE, Wis., Aug. 4.—"The biggest question now confronting the country is the constantly increasing cost of living," declared Lieutenant Gov. Thomas Morris this noon in an address here. He said that it was nothing short of criminal to allow this condition to exist in a country so rich and prosperous. Morris suggested trust legislation as a remedy. Beginning this morning, Mr. Morris is making a campaign with an automobile through Dane county in the interest of his candidacy for United States senator. On the trip he is accompanied by Senator H. A. Huber and A. Torgerson, of Stoughton and H. A. Kemp of Oregon, chairman of the Dane county republican committee.

"The fact that there has been no remedy applied does not controvert the plain circumstance that the real cause of the present high cost of living are the trusts and the monopoly," declared Mr. Morris. "Trusts and monopolies are rooted in the industrial, commercial and social life of the people. This is the primary, the basic cause, of the present high cost of living."

Over Capitalized
Morris then analyzed the large financial trusts of the country and showed that they had entrenched themselves in power and had issued billions of securities, representing no investment on the part of those who had issued them. He said that Perkins and his allies advocated legalized monopoly in private business. "The wickedness of this plan lies in the fact that all these monopolies and trusts are tremendously over-capitalized," continued Mr. Morris. "Not more than 30 per cent of the steel trust capitalization represents actual original investment. Should the plans of those Napoleons of finance succeed it would result in a mortgage on the American people for all time.

Outline Program
In the course of his speech Morris outlined a part of his program for trust regulation, which he said would cure the evils of high cost of living. He advocated the complete divorcement of the mining industries from manufacturing corporations and from public utilities. Morris speaks at DeForest tonight.

PAY $500 REWARD

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 4.—Governor McGovern has ordered paid a reward of $500 by the state to S. G. Kjørum was a farmer 86 years old.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell

The old time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

Chicago Grain Review CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The wheat pit again saw excited buying early today on the report that England would assume war risks on grain cargoes already purchased from this country, and that congress was certain to pass a bill admitting foreign vessels to American registry so that they might carry grain to Europe. Prices advanced 3 cents, September going to 90 cents and May to $1. The trade soon began to doubt the reports and prices fell back 7-8 to 1c above last night's closing figures. Corn futures had an advance of 1-2c at the start and made additional gain of 1 1-8 to 1 1-4c because of the return of hot weather to the corn belt. Oats was steady at the start, went a little higher on the bulge in wheat and corn and then eased off again. At noon prices were a shade over last night's closing figures. Provisions were nervous. Prices eased off a shade at the start, but the packing interests bought on the dip and prices advanced.

CHARITIES SENDS "KIDS" FROM CITY

Protegees of Local Association Are Sent to West Salem Farms

Through the efforts of the Associated Charities of La Crosse a mother has been given the chance to visit her relatives out of the city while three small children are being taken care of on a farm near West Salem. The trip and the feeling that her children will be cared for while she is away, she told Miss Winifred Salisbury was something she had not expected.

Miss Salisbury will give no names of those who are given aid and are sent away for short vacations.

This case is the first of the number that the Associated Charities will take care of during the summer.

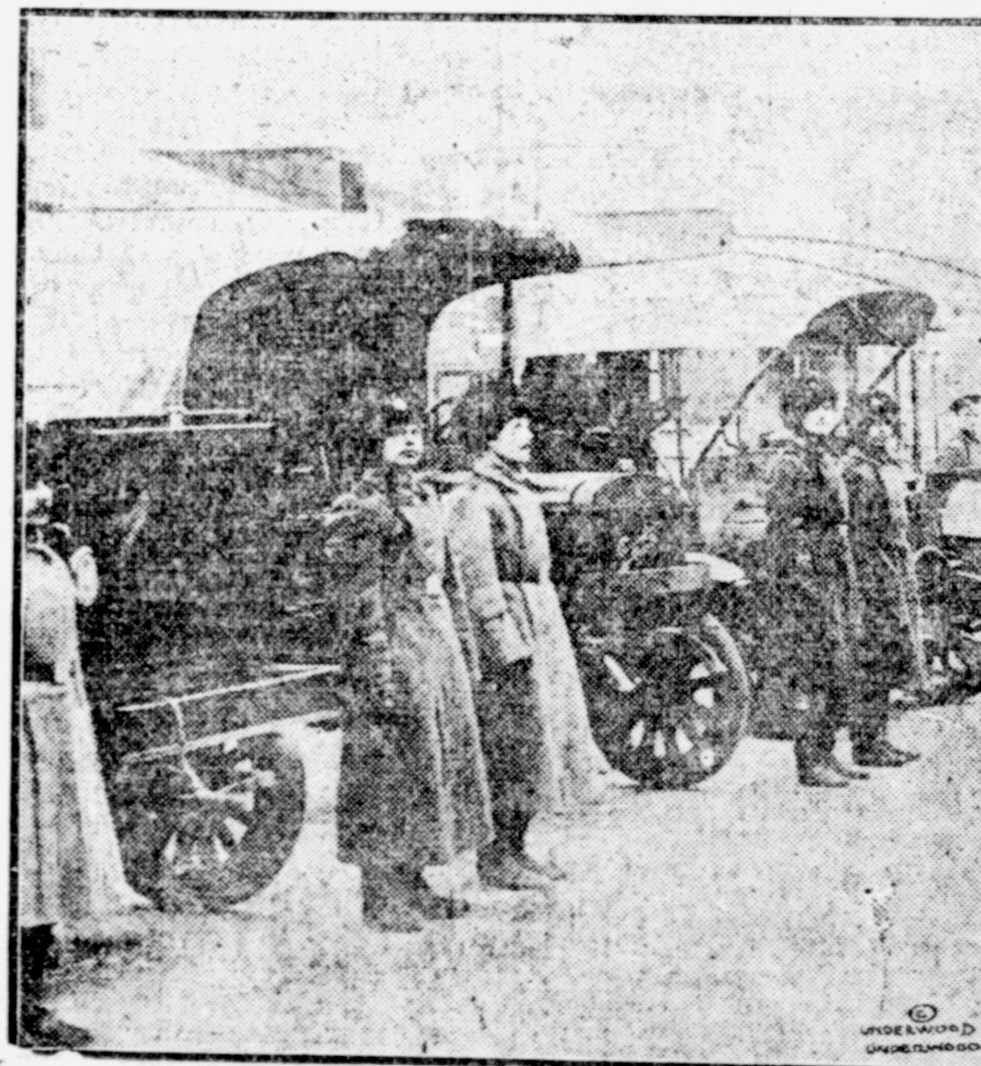

Several residents of the vicinity of West Salem whose farms will afford the most benefits have promised to shelter and feed a number of children. In some instances, tired mothers will also be the guests of the farmers.

Three small boys will be given a trip to the country within a few days.

No Trouble to Remove Superfluous Hairs

(Toilet Tips.)

It is an easy matter to rid the skin of objectionable hair or fuzz, if you proceed as follows: Mix a paste with some water and a little powdered delatone, apply to hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method of banishing hairy growths is painless and does not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain to get real delatone.

GERMANY DECLARES WAR ON ENGLAND THINK BIG NAVAL BATTLE IS NOW ON

WIPE OUT GERMAN FLEET ENGLAND'S ORDER TO NAVY; BATTLE MAY BE ON

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Germany declared war on England this evening. This announcement was made at the foreign office after midnight. It is expected that the Kaiser, realizing that a conflict was inevitable, decided to take the initiative.

The announcement that Germany had assumed the responsibility for the conflict, was received by officials here with relief. England was ready. Orders have already gone forth to the commander-in-chief of the British naval forces to wipe out the German fleet. It is believed that if the fleet has not already struck it will do so within the next few hours. The exact location of the German ships is known. Their action in sinking a mine-laying ship and chasing a destroyer was unwise in the opinion of the naval experts, inasmuch as it revealed their position to the British admiral.

The announcement that Germany had declared war was received at the foreign office fifteen minutes before the time fixed in England's ultimatum to Germany, midnight, but the news was withheld for a time.

It was reported after midnight that the kaiser had ignored England's ultimatum. Instead of answer to the demand regarding Belgium, Germany responded with a declaration of war.

The admiralty issued a declaration this (Wednesday morning announcing that England formally declared war on Germany at eleven o'clock Tuesday night. This was later by a few hours than the German declaration.

The English and German fleets in the North Sea are in open warfare. The admiralty tonight received a report that the German fleet in the North Sea have destroyed a British mine laying vessel. The identity of the vessel is not yet known.

The German battle fleet is sweeping the North Sea. It was admitted at the admiralty tonight that a British destroyer which located the Germans late today was chased by German battleship cruisers but managed to escape. Shots were exchanged but no damage done.

Unofficial advices from several sources close to the government say that a decree declaring war upon Germany has been prepared by the cabinet and is before King George being held awaiting his signature. It is considered certain that this decree will be signed within a very short time.

Enormous crowds are gathered about Buckingham palace. The men and women frantically cheered the king and alternated with shouts of "Long live France." Then the entire throng sang the national anthem. As the strains of the historic anthem rose, the king and queen, the prince of Wales, and the princesses appeared on the balcony. They were plainly overcome with emotion and the king stood bareheaded, at attention, until the music ceased. The temper of the crowd was plainly for war, and must have impressed his majesty.

A violent demonstration took place tonight when an enormous mob attacked the German embassy. Stones were thrown through the windows and an attempt to storm the building was only checked by the arrival of additional police. The officers had to charge the crowd repeatedly before it could be dispersed. The attack was renewed and mounted officers rode down the leaders of the mob. Troops have been called to defend the embassy.

Martial law was declared throughout Great Britain and Ireland. This step following on the taking over of the railroads by the government and the closing of British ports, is preliminary to a declaration of war. It places the military authorities in supreme control everywhere.

BULLETINS

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Sixty shells were fired in the bombardment of Bona by a German cruiser today. Meager reports say one Algerian was killed and that scores of houses in the city, distant from the fortification, were destroyed.

NISH, Aug. 4.—Serbia is about to invade Bosnia. This was learned tonight when an official decree was issued prohibiting the transmission of all press dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—"This government expects to represent France in Berlin," Secretary of State Bryan stated this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The British embassy was reopened today, the entire staff returning from Manchester, Mass.

ATHENS, Aug. 4.—The Greek army and navy are being mobilized. This action was ordered by the king today following the announcement that Turkey was preparing to aid Austria against Serbia. Indications tonight are that the Baltic war will be renewed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—A serious delay in the dispatch of mail to Europe is expected by Postmaster General Burleson, he announced tonight. Although the department "has made provisions for the most expeditious handling of the foreign mails under the circumstances," he said, "a week's accumulation will be on hand if the La Lorraine does not sail tomorrow."

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—The British ambassador to Germany has his belongings packed in readiness to proceed to the frontier. He is momentarily expecting orders from his home government to demand his passports. The excitement here tonight is intense.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—It was reported late tonight that the German warship which today bombarded Bona, Algeria, has been attacked by hostile warships. While there is doubt as to what vessels could be engaged, it is considered certain that they are French. There are ten French battleships and cruisers in the vicinity of the African coast, they having entered the Mediterranean last Friday.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The British government tonight took over all of the railroads in the United Kingdom. It was officially announced that this precautionary measure had been taken because of the gravity of the situation and that the government would manage the roads through a committee to be formed from the railway managers.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 4.—The Belgian foreign office opened negotiations with France and England looking toward an alliance in the war against Germany. Socialists in parliament gave the government complete support, declaring that war was necessary in defense of the nation, advancing as their only stipulation that a vote be taken before the war fund should be appropriated.

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—Official notification was received at the head offices of the Canadian Pacific railway this afternoon that the British government has requisitioned the liners Empress of Asia, Empress of Japan, and Empress of Russia, of the Pacific fleet.

RUMOR OF A BIG NAVAL BATTLE—SPECIAL TRAIN RUSHES 200 DOCTORS TO CROMARTY FOR WOUNDED

LONDON, Aug. 4.—England's wireless broke loose tonight. Immediately after midnight King George sent a personal message to the entire battle fleet now sailing against the German armada cleared for action.

"I have confidence that the British fleet will revive the old glories of the navy. I am sure that the navy will again shield Britain in this hour of trial. It will prove the bulwark of the empire."

CAPTURE OR DESTROY FLEET

This was the first message sent to the fleet since it cleared from Plymouth harbor and sailed to the secret rendezvous in the North sea. Ever since the wireless has been silent. No word was permitted to go forth until tonight when the signal for the most tremendous naval battle ever fought sputtered out through the darkness from the great naval wireless station.

Immediately after the orders to "capture or destroy the enemy" had been flashed to the admiral commanding, it was followed by the king's own words.

DECLARATION WAS SUPPRESSED

LONDON, Aug. 4.—It became known this morning that Germany's declaration of war against England was delivered to the premier in person by the German ambassador to England at seven o'clock last (Tuesday) night. By order of the king and the privy council announcement of it was withheld until midnight in order to observe the terms of the formal ultimatum.

ENGLAND BUYS DREADNAUGHTS

LONDON, Aug. 4.—England has purchased two Turkish dreadnaughts and the two Chilean destroyers that are under construction in British yards. All of the crafts are nearly completed and work will be rushed on them day and night.

ABERDEEN, Scotland, Aug. 4.—It is believed that a naval battle may have been fought off the north coast of Scotland, and the fact that the wounded are to be landed in Cromarty, Scotland, indicates that the British fleet was one of the fleets engaged. Details are lacking.

All the physicians in Aberdeen have been sent to Cromarty by special train to take care of the wounded. This strongly suggests that it was a big battle, for Cromarty is the British naval base in the north of Scotland. It is headquarters for the reserve squadron and there are naval doctors and marine hospital corps men there sufficient to care for the victims of any ordinary fight.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The king had a privy council sitting just before midnight. A decree had been prepared declaring that a state of war existed with Germany, should the answer to England's ultimatum prove unsatisfactory. Instead, the kaiser ignored the ultimatum and took the initiative in the war declaration.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Postmaster General Burleson announced tonight that the international money order service between the United States and that country was suspended today "at the instance of Belgium."

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—Newspapers here have an unconfirmed report tonight that the British ambassador has demanded his passports. The report has been in circulation for several hours, without either confirmation or denial.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The Dover harbor was closed tonight at the order of the admiralty. Dover is directly across the channel from the French town of Calais. It is one of the principal ports of communication between England and the continent.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—The German cruiser Breslau is fighting British ships in the Mediterranean sea, according to messages received at the marine department. The official report of the attack of the German cruiser came from the governor-general of Algeria.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The Exchange Telegraph company's Brussels correspondent wires that the Germans have attacked Fort Fleuron, the chief defense of Liege, Belgium. No details of a battle are available.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—Dispatches received here late tonight and not yet fully confirmed, say that the French fleet in the Mediterranean has captured the German cruisers Breslau and Goeben, which today were reported shelling Algerian fortified cities.

Daddy's Bedtime

The Big Rooster Story — And the Plucky Little Bantam.

"O H, daddy," cried Jack excitedly as he and Evelyn hopped upon daddy's knee for the evening story, "the funniest thing happened today! Lemmy Wilson is the biggest boy in my class, and he has been picking on every one else, and today little Louis Snyder licked him easy."

Daddy laughed. "That reminds me of a story, Jack. Your grandfather had the biggest, noisiest white rooster you ever saw and the biggest bully. He used to bully the hens so that the poor things were afraid to eat, and the other roosters were afraid of him too."

"He was terribly fierce and even used to frighten your grandmother and me, and if I had anything to eat in my hand he would chase me until I dropped it."

"Well, one day your grandfather, who never seemed to take very much stock in that strutting old rooster somehow, drove to town, and when he returned he brought back—what do you think? Why, the cunningest little red bantam rooster and hen that you ever saw in a funny little coop all their own! Then he called your grandma and me to come and see."

"Your grandma was laughing quietly to herself when he went into the chicken yard with that coop and opened it. The little red rooster stepped out, ruffled his feathers and looked around. Then he threw up his head and made the funniest little squeaky crow you ever heard."

"The big white bully rooster heard him. He strutted up, ruffled his feathers and crowed like a horn. I forgot to tell you that he had a crow that was louder than any motor horn you ever heard, and he had used his voice so much that he sounded just as if he had bronchitis."

"Well, the little bantam crowed back in his shrill squeak and ruffled his feathers. Then the big fellow jumped for him."

"But instead of running, as we all expected he would, that tiny bantam just stood still, his feathers all ruffled up, and never moved an inch. And now comes the funny part of the story. Instead of pitching into the bantam and giving him a terrible drubbing the white rooster stood still and looked at him. At that the bantam ran toward him, and as the bantam ran the big white rooster retreated."

"Your grandfather clapped his hands with glee. 'Go it, banty' he cried. 'I always knew that bully of a rooster was a great fraud! If he ever saw any one who was not afraid of him I always knew he'd run. Go it! Lick him!'"

"And banty did go to it. He chased him into a corner and pitched into him until the big rooster saw a chance to run out of the door of the hen yard, and if that big rooster hadn't dropped after awhile from sheer fatigue I think he would have been running yet."

HE NEED NOT PAY BILL OF ANOTHER

Charged with non-payment of a hotel bill at the Nora House, George Enos was brought before Judge John Brindley in county court yesterday. A man representing the firm which employs Enos is alleged to have jumped a bill. Enos was arrested through the belief that he could be made to pay the bill. The case was dismissed because of a lack of proper ground for action.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

BOOMING THE SHOW

BY DONALD ALLEN

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The Boston Ideal Theatrical company was getting ready to take the road for the summer. It would play "Hazel Kirke," "Lady Audley's Secret" and "A Young Girl's Love"—all tremendous successes. The cast was large, and every actor a star.

Miss Vivian Temple had been imported from England, at great expense as leading lady, and her support would be well known Harry P. J. Frothingham, who had supported some of the greatest actresses of the last decade. New scenery by the best artists! New costumes by Worth!

Mr. H. P. J. Frothingham sat in a back room of a second class boarding house in a city. So did his wife who was the Vivian Temple of the stage. He was figuring with a pencil and rumpling his hair, and she was darning a stocking and saying nothing. By and by he shoved back with a groan, and she asked: "Well, how do you make it?"

"I am figuring on opening at Little Falls, and that is forty miles from here."

"Yes?"

"When I get the company up there I won't have a dollar left."

"And if you don't have a big house there, we are busted."

"You've hit it."

"And if we had three good nights the grand summer tour will be a success?"

"A grand success. What scheme have you got?"

"If you can do that you are the greatest leading lady on the boards today. Let's hear your plan."

Three or four days later a handsome woman descended from the once-a-day train at Little Falls and was driven to the inn. She gave her name as Vivian Temple, and promptly stated that she was an actress in a company soon to open there. She had not come on professional business, however. She was a widow, and had been for two years. Some husbands in dying bound their wives not to marry again. They threatened to cut off their income or to haunt them, and acted real mean about it. Instead of being such a man as that, Mr. Temple had been right the opposite. When told by the doctor that he had only 27 minutes to live, he had said:

"Vivian, old girl, I am going to take a vacation."

She understood what he meant and wept.

"If I asked you not to marry again I suppose you wouldn't?"

"Not in a thousand years!"

"But I'm not going to ask you. It's a mean husband that does that. I shall be up there having a good time, and I don't want to look down on the United States and see you unhappy."

"That is good of you, but I shall respect your memory by refusing all offers, no matter how gilt edged they are."

"Oh, but I can't permit it. I am worth $200,000, and I shall stipulate that unless you marry again within two years you lose every dollar of it. It shall be given to bow legged men."

She promised to carry out his wishes, and he died as happy as a man can after beating Uncle Sam out of his income tax. The widow Temple acknowledged that she was rather slow about some things. She had put off the second husband matter until now there were only five days left. Within that five days she must find a husband or lose that fortune.

Who wanted a wife and $200,000 in cash? Who wanted half of that sum simply for going through a ceremony? She asked the question, the two papers in town asked it, and in a day the whole population was asking it.

There were widows and bachelors and young men who wanted that cash. It appealed to them. They could shut their eyes and see the yellowbacks. Some wanted a wife with it, but they were not going to kick if they got nothing but the money. They were to call on her at the inn. She couldn't stand for the conventions when so much was at stake.

They called. How many? She had no adding machine to keep track of the number. Some lived in the town, and others drove in on the gallop. There was a program about it. Enter John Doe. He found a smiling good looking woman.

"Good morning Mr. Doe. Have you come as a contestant?"

"Yes."

"I am glad of it. I like the looks of you. Have you any objections to marrying an actress?"

"None."

"That is nice of you. I shall put your name on the list and a red star after it. I want you to fully understand the matter. The Boston Ideal Theatrical company is to open here for three nights—the 7th, 8th and 9th."

"I read it so."

"To save my fortune I must be married before midnight on the 9th. The marriage will therefore take place on the stage after the performance."

"Golly!"

"If you are the chosen one I hope you will not be too timid to come up."

"Everyone will be looking."

"But every one won't get that fortune, you know. If you feel that it will be a trial, you come each night and sort of get used to the hall and to seeing me on the stage. Bring your friends with you. Let them see me and give you their opinion."

There was Deacon Sackett, a widower, seventy years old. When he was ushered into the widow's presence he asked:

"Do you bar out a man a little over fifty years old?"

"Not at all," was the smiling reply.

"I hadn't thought of gettin' married again, but I dunno—I dunno. I have six children, but they are all grown up."

"I feel that I shall like each and every one of them."

"I hear that the marriage is to take place on the stage?"

"Yes, on the third night of the play."

"That's it, you see. Our pastor would have me bounced out of the church for even attending a theater. I guess I'll have to give it up, but some other wider woman may come along before I die. It's all the parson's fault. You never saw a man hold such a tight rein on folks. Why, because I played four games of checkers with Abe Smith, and drank five glasses of hard cider while doing it, the parson said I'd never get nigher to heaven than the outer aisle."

The night of the 7th arrived. So did the Boston Ideals. They didn't need any posters. They had been heralded better than a hundred six-sheet posters could have done it. The people began filling the town hall an hour before the curtain was to go up. When the hall could hold no more they paid for seats on the stove and window sills and the floors of the aisles. Never in history had the big room held such an audience.

It was so the second night, and it was worse the third. There were no aisles left, and the applause was continuous.

At last the act was finished, and there was a mad yell for the Widow Temple.

She appeared with a glad smile in front of the curtain, and was chaperoned by Mr. Frothingham.

She made a statement as to her dying husband's wish, and as to her coming to Little Falls to find some one willing to marry her. She had played fair with the contestants, giving each one an equal show. They were all nice men and she liked them all, but—

"Who is the lucky man?" was the cry.

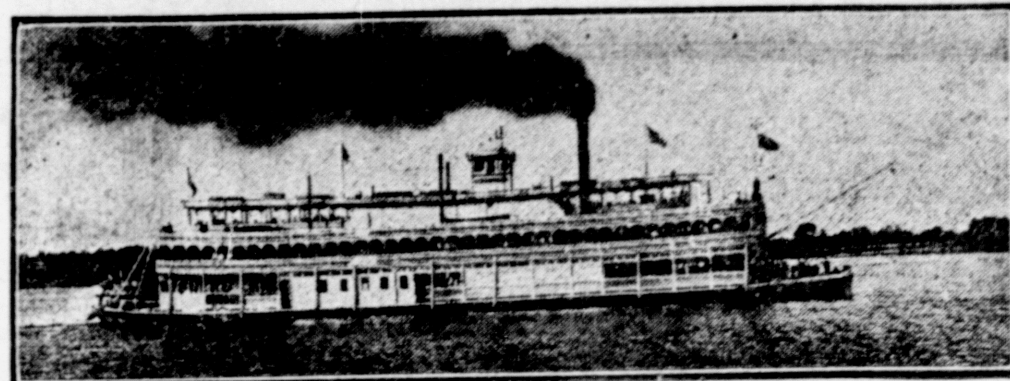

But she was an actress, and she wanted to remain one. Not one husband out of fifty would permit her to do so, unless he himself was in the profession. Therefore—

"The man! The man! Who is the lucky man?"

In answer to this she joined hands with the actor and a justice of the peace stepped forward and made them man and wife. They were cheered, and the Ideal company got right out of the town on a freight train.

LITTLE FELLOWS TO GET INTO IT, TOO

King Albert.

King Albert was the first of the minor monarchs outside the Balkans to get busy in the general European upheaval. He mobilized the troops of Belgium almost as quick as the czar did, and has since been followed by Holland and Switzerland, which countries feel that they must be prepared to preserve neutrality and perhaps independence by force of arms.

UNITED IRELAND TO ENTER THE WAR

LONDON, Aug. 4.—John Redmond, the Irish leader, electrified the house of commons this afternoon, when, in an impassioned address, he declared that the government can withdraw every soldier from Ireland.

"Ireland will be defended by her own sons," he shouted. "The protestants of the north, and the Catholics of the south, will stand shoulder to shoulder in this great national crisis."

Origin of "Bankrupt."

"When a man falls in business he naturally feels all 'broken up' about it, and it's natural to suppose that he feels pretty 'rotten' about his crash, and both of these conditions of mind are indicated in the word bankrupt. Though bankruptcy suggests 'high finance,' it's a word of very humble origin. It was first heard many centuries ago in the marketplaces of Italian cities. If a fruit vender failed other vendors broke his bench or stall and drove him from the market place. He was then said to be 'banca rotto,' or bench broken, and from that expression comes the English word bankrupt.

Antiquity of the Cucumber.

The cucumber was cultivated in Egypt before the days of Moses. If you are interested in the subject you will find that the children of Israel in the wilderness (there were about 3,000,000 of them) mourned the cucumbers which they had left behind them in the land of bondage. You will find this fact recorded in Numbers xi, 5: "We remember the fish which we did eat in Egypt freely; the cucumbers and the melons and the leeks and the onions and the garlic."—Indianapolis News.

THE STREAM OF LIFE.

Keep yourself in the midst of life. Do not isolate yourself. Be among men and among things and among troubles and difficulties and obstacles. You should remember Goethe's words, "Talent develops itself in solitude, character in the stream of life."—Henry Drummond.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The wheat pit again saw excited buying early today on the report that England would assume war risks on grain cargoes already purchased from this country, and that congress was certain to pass a bill admitting foreign vessels to American registry so that they might carry grain to Europe. Prices advanced 3 cents, September going to 90 cents and May to $1. The trade soon began to doubt the reports and prices fell back 7-8 to 1c above last night's closing figures. Corn futures had an advance of 1-2c at the start and made additional gain of 1 1-8 to 1 1-4c because of the return of hot weather to the corn belt.
Oats was steady at the start, went a little higher on the bulge in wheat and corn and then eased off again. At noon prices were a shade over last night's closing figures. Provisions were nervous. Prices eased off a shade at the start, but the packing interests bought on the dip and prices advanced.

CHARITIES SENDS "KIDS" FROM CITY

Protegees of Local Association Are Sent to West Salem Farms

Through the efforts of the Associated Charities of La Crosse a mother has been given the chance to visit her relatives out of the city while three small children are being taken care of on a farm near West Salem. The trip and the feeling that her children will be cared for while she is away, she told Miss Winifred Salisbury was something she had not expected.

Miss Salisbury will give no names of those who are given aid and are sent away for short vacations.

This case is the first of the number that the Associated Charities will take care of during the summer.

Several residents of the vicinity of West Salem whose farms will afford the most benefits have promised to shelter and feed a number of children. In some instances, tired mothers will also be the guests of the farmers.

Three small boys will be given a trip to the country within a few days.

No Trouble to Remove Superfluous Hairs

(Toilet Tips.)
It is an easy matter to rid the skin of objectionable hair or fuzz, if you proceed as follows: Mix a paste with some water and a little powdered talc, apply to hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method of banishing hairy growths is painless and does not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain to get real talc.
